A workshop 'Suddha Banan Suddha Uccharan' (Correct spelling correct pronunciation) was held at the Radhagobinda Barua Conference Hall in the premises of Asam Sahitya Sabha's Guwahati office on August 20, 2021, from 11-00 A.M. Organised jointly by Asam Sahitya Sabha and Guwahati Press Club, the workshop, attended by the representatives of almost all the media houses and a few select advertising agencies of Guwahati, was inaugurated by the Sabha President Dr Kuladhar Saikia.

The programme began with presentation of the Sabha opening song 'Chira Chenehi Mor Bhasha Janani...' which was followed by welcome address by the Sabha general secretary Jadab Chandra Sarma and Guwahati Press Club President Manoj Kumar Nath. The main resource person of the workshop, distinguished writer-scholar Dr Dinesh Chandra Goswami, and two guests of honour, Prashanta Rajguru (Chief Editor, Prag News) and Nitumoni Saikia (Editor, Pratidin Time) were accorded felicitation before all three of them speaking on the occasion.

After brief speeches by Shri Rajguru and Sri Saikia, resource person Dr Goswami conducted the workshop part. While narrating about the proper and correct forms of most of the commonly used but wrongly spelled and pronounced Assamese words, Dr Goswami held the conference hall full to its capacity spellbound.

Moreover, the book 'Bijnanar Abhinava Jagat', written by Dr. Goswami and published by Asam Sahitya Sabha was also released in the programme by the Sabha President Dr. Saikia.

Guwahati Press Club assistant secretary Manisha Kalita proposed the vote of thanks and finally the proceedings concluded with the presentation of Asom Sangeet 'O Mor Aaponar Desh...'
